PUBLIC INTEREST DISCLOSURES POLICY

Strategic Outcome:	Sustainable natural and built landscapes
Policy type	Statutory
Date of Adoption:	3 August 2021 Minute Number: 287/23
Date for Review:	3 August 2021
Responsible Officer:	Deputy Chief Executive Officer
Document Control:	Replaces the Internal Reporting and Protected Disclosures Policy adopted on 19 October 2022.
Delivery Program Link:	2.1.2: Council operations support ethical, transparent and accountable corporate governance

1. POLICY STATEMENT

All agencies in NSW are required to have a Public Interest Disclosure (PID) Policy under section 42 of the Public Interest Disclosures Act 2022 (PID Act).

Berrigan Shire Council takes reports of serious wrongdoing seriously. Council is committed to building a 'speak up' culture where public officials are encouraged to report any conduct they reasonably believe involves wrongdoing.

The integrity of Berrigan Shire Council relies upon its staff, volunteers, contractors, and subcontractors speaking up when they become aware of wrongdoing.

2. PURPOSE

This policy sets out:

- how Berrigan Shire Council will support and protect you if you come forward with a report of serious wrongdoing,
- how we will deal with the report and our other responsibilities under the PID Act,
- who to contact if you want to make a report,
- how to make a report, and
- the protections which are available to you under the PID Act.

Policy

This policy also documents our commitment to building a speak up culture. Part of that speak up culture is having in place a framework that facilitates public interest reporting of wrongdoing by:

- protecting those who speak up from detrimental action, and
- imposing duties on agencies who receive reports of wrongdoing to take appropriate action to investigate or otherwise deal with them.

In NSW, that framework is the PID Act.

3. SCOPE

This policy applies to, and for the benefit of, all public officials in NSW.

You are a public official if you are:

- a Councillor,
- a Council employee,
- a Council volunteer,
- a person employed in or by an agency or otherwise in the service of an agency,
- a person having public official functions, or acting in a public official capacity, whose conduct or activities an integrity agency is authorised by another Act or law, to investigate,
- an individual in the service of the Crown,
- a statutory officer,
- a person providing services or exercising functions on behalf of an agency, including a contractor, subcontractor or volunteer,
- an employee, partner or officer of an entity that provides services, under contract, subcontract or other arrangement, on behalf of an agency or exercises functions of an agency and are involved in providing those services or exercising those functions,
- a judicial officer,
- a Member of Parliament (MP), including a Minister and / or
- a person employed under the Members of Parliament Staff Act 2013.

The Chief Executive Officer, other nominated disclosure officers, and managers within Berrigan Shire Council have specific responsibilities under the PID Act. This policy also provides information on how people in these roles will fulfil their responsibilities. Other public officials who work in and for the public sector, but do not work for Council may use this policy if they want information on who they can report wrongdoing to within Council.

This policy does not apply to:

- people who have received services from Council and want to make a complaint about those services, or

Policy

- people, such as contractors, who provide services to Council. For example, employees of a company that sold computer software to Council.

This policy therefore does not apply to complaints not made by public officials. There are, however, some circumstances where a complaint can be deemed to be a voluntary PID (see section 6.1.9 of this policy for more information).

However, you can still make a complaint to Berrigan Shire Council. This can be done by providing the complaint in writing to the Chief Executive Officer.

4. OBJECTIVE

This policy is developed to assist the Council with the Delivery Program Objective:

2.1.2: Council operations support ethical, transparent and accountable corporate governance.

5. DEFINITIONS

Council:	Berrigan Shire Council
Council official:	a Councillor, employee, committee member, volunteer, contractor or subcontractor of Berrigan Shire Council;
Manager:	As defined in section 15 of the PID Act. Your manager is a person who directly or indirectly supervises you;
Public official:	As defined in section 14 of the PID Act and in Section 4 of this Policy.

6. POLICY IMPLEMENTATION

6.1 How to make a report of serious wrongdoing

6.1.1 Reports, complaints, and grievances

When a public official reports suspected or possible wrongdoing in the public sector, their report will be a PID if it has certain features which are set out in the PID Act.

Some internal complaints or internal grievances may also be PIDs, if they have the features of a PID. If an internal complaint or grievance is a report of serious wrongdoing, we will consider whether it is a PID. If it is a PID, we will deal with it as set out in this policy, but we will also make sure we follow our Code of Conduct or other relevant policies.

It is important we quickly recognise when we have received a PID. This is because once a PID is received, the person who has made the report is entitled to certain protections and we have certain decisions we must make on how we will deal with the PID and how we will protect and support the person who has made the report.

Policy

6.1.2 When will a report be a PID?

There are three types of PIDs in the PID Act. These are:

1. Voluntary PID: This is a PID where a report has been made by the public official because they decided, of their own accord, to come forward and disclose what they know.
2. Mandatory PID: This is a PID where the public official has made a report about serious wrongdoing because they have a legal obligation to make that report, or because making that report is an ordinary aspect of their role or function in an agency.
3. Witness PID: This is a PID where a person discloses information during an investigation of serious wrongdoing following a request or requirement of the investigator.

This policy mostly relates to making a voluntary PID and how we will deal with voluntary PIDs. People who make a mandatory PID or a witness PID are still entitled to protection. More information about protections is available in section 6.2 of this policy.

You can find more information about mandatory and witness PIDs in the Ombudsman's guidelines 'Dealing with mandatory PIDs' and 'Dealing with witness PIDs'.

Voluntary PIDs are the kind of PIDs most people have in mind when they think about public interest reporting and 'whistleblowing'.

They involve a public official making a report because they have information they believe shows (or tends to show) serious wrongdoing, where they are not under a legal obligation to make that report and where it is not an ordinary part of their role to report such wrongdoing.

A report is a voluntary PID if it has the following five features, which are set out in sections 24 to 27 of the PID Act:

1. A report is made by a public official

2. It is made to a person who can receive voluntary PIDs

3. The public official honestly and reasonably believes that the information they are providing shows (or tends to show) serious wrongdoing

4. The report was made orally or in writing

5. The report is voluntary (meaning it is not a mandatory or witness PID)

Policy

If the report has all five features, it is a voluntary PID.

You will not be expected to prove that what you reported happened or is serious wrongdoing. You do have to honestly believe, on reasonable grounds, the information you are reporting shows, or tends to show, serious wrongdoing.

Even though you do not have to prove the serious wrongdoing happened or provide evidence, a mere allegation with no supporting information is unlikely to meet this test.

If we make an error and do not identify that you have made a voluntary PID, you will still be entitled to the protections under the PID Act.

If you make a report and believe we have made an error by not identifying that you have made a voluntary PID, you should raise this with a nominated disclosure officer or your contact officer for the report. If you are still not satisfied with this outcome, you can seek an internal review, or we make seek to conciliate the matter. You may also contact the NSW Ombudsman. Further information on rights to internal review and conciliation is found in section 6.7 of this policy.

6.1.3 Who can make a voluntary PID?

Any public official can make a voluntary PID — see Section 3 – “Scope”.

You are a public official if:

- you are a Councillor,
- you are employed by Council,
- you are a member of a Council committee,
- you are a contractor, subcontractor or volunteer who provides services, or exercises functions, on behalf of Council, or
- you work for an entity (such as a non-government organisation) who is contracted by Council to provide services or exercise functions on behalf of [agency name] — if you are involved in undertaking that contracted work.

A public official can make a PID about serious wrongdoing relating to any agency, not just the agency they are working for. This means we may receive PIDs from public officials outside Council. It also means you can make a PID to any agency, including an integrity agency like the Independent Commission Against Corruption (ICAC) and the NSW Ombudsman. Annexure B of this policy has a list of integrity agencies.

6.1.4 What is serious wrongdoing?

Policy

Reports must be of one or more of the following categories of serious wrongdoing to be a voluntary PID (in addition to having the other features set out here). Serious wrongdoing is defined in the PID Act as:

- corrupt conduct — such as a public official accepting a bribe,
- serious maladministration — such as an agency systemically failing to comply with proper recruitment processes when hiring staff,
- a government information contravention — such as destroying, concealing, or altering records to prevent them from being released under a Government Information Public Access application,
- a local government pecuniary interest contravention — such as a senior council staff member recommending a family member for a council contract and not declaring the relationship,
- a privacy contravention — such as unlawfully accessing a person's personal information on an agency's database, or
- a serious and substantial waste of public money — such as an agency not following a competitive tendering process when contracting with entities to undertake government work.

When you make your report, you do not need to state to Council what category of serious wrongdoing you are reporting or that you are reporting serious wrongdoing.

6.1.5 Who can I make a voluntary PID to?

For a report to be a voluntary PID, it must be made to certain public officials.

Making a report to a public official who works for Berrigan Shire Council

You can make a report inside Council to:

- the Chief Executive Officer
- a disclosure officer for Council — a list of disclosure officers for Council and their contact details can be found at Annexure A of this policy.
- your manager — this is the person who directly, or indirectly, supervises you. It can also be the person who you directly, or indirectly, report to. You may have more than one manager. Your manager will make sure the report is communicated to a disclosure officer on your behalf or may accompany you while you make the report to a disclosure officer.

Making a report to a recipient outside of Berrigan Shire Council

You can also make your report to a public official in another agency (meaning an agency you do not work for) or an integrity agency. These include:

- the head of another agency — this means the head of any public service agency,

Policy

- an integrity agency — a list of integrity agencies is located at Annexure B of this policy,
- a disclosure officer for another agency — ways to contact disclosure officers for other agencies is located in an agency's PID policy which can be found on their public website, or
- a Minister or a member of a Minister's staff but the report must be made in writing.

If you choose to make a disclosure outside of Council, it is possible that your disclosure will be referred back to Berrigan Shire Council so appropriate action can be taken.

Making a report to a Member of Parliament or journalist

Disclosures to MPs or journalists are different to other reports. You can only disclose a report of wrongdoing as a voluntary PID to an MP or journalist in the following circumstances:

- You must have first made substantially the same disclosure (described here as a 'previous disclosure') to someone who can receive disclosures.
- The previous disclosure must be substantially true.
- You did not make the previous disclosure anonymously.
- You did not give a written waiver of your right to receive information relating to your previous disclosure.
- You did not receive the following from Council:
 - notification Council will not investigate the serious wrongdoing and will also not refer the previous disclosure to another agency, or
 - the following information at the end of the investigation period:
 - notice of the Council decision to investigate the serious wrongdoing,
 - a description of the results of an investigation into the serious wrongdoing, or
 - details of proposed or recommended corrective action as a result of the previous disclosure or investigation.

Investigation period means:

- after six months from the previous disclosure being made, or
- after 12 months if you applied for an internal review of the agency's decision within six months of making the disclosure, or

If all the above requirements are met, your disclosure to an MP or journalist may be a voluntary PID.

6.1.6 What form should a voluntary PID take?

You can make a voluntary PID:

- in writing — this could be an email or letter to a person who can receive voluntary PIDs.

Policy

- orally — have a private discussion with a person who can receive voluntary PIDs. This can be face-to-face, via telephone or virtually.
- anonymously — write an email or letter or call a person who can receive PIDs to make a report without providing your name or anything that might identify you as the maker of the report. A report will only be considered anonymous if there is no reasonable or practical way of communicating with the person making the report. Even if you choose to remain anonymous, you will still be protected under the PID Act. It may be difficult, however, for Council officers to investigate the matter(s) you have disclosed if we cannot contact you for further information.

6.1.7 What should I include in my report?

You should provide as much information as possible so we can deal with the report effectively. The type of information you should include is:

- date, time, and location of key events,
- names of person(s) involved in the suspected wrongdoing, their role, title and how they are involved,
- your relationship with the person(s) involved, such as whether you work closely with them,
- your explanation of the matter you are reporting,
- how you became aware of the matter you are reporting,
- possible witnesses, and
- other information you have that supports your report.

6.1.8 What if I am not sure my report is a PID?

You should report all wrongdoing you become aware of regardless of whether you think it is serious wrongdoing. It is important for Council to understand what is or may be occurring.

We are then responsible for making sure your report is handled appropriately under the PID Act, or if it is not a PID, in line with our other procedures. Even if your report is not a PID, it may fall within another one of the agency's policies for dealing with reports, allegations, or complaints.

6.1.9 Deeming that a report is a PID?

The Chief Executive Officer or Deputy Chief Executive Officer can, in certain circumstances, determine that a report is a voluntary PID even if the report does not otherwise have all the features of a voluntary PID. This is known as the 'deeming power'.

By deeming that a report is a voluntary PID, it ensures reporters are provided with protections under the PID Act.

Policy

If you make a report that has not met all the requirements of a voluntary PID, you can refer your matter to Chief Executive Officer or Deputy Chief Executive Officer to request they consider deeming your report to be a voluntary PID.

A decision to deem a report to be a voluntary PID is at the discretion of the Chief Executive Officer or Deputy Chief Executive Officer. For more information about the deeming power, see the Ombudsman's guideline 'Deeming that a disclosure is a voluntary PID'.

6.1.10 Who can I talk to if I have further questions or concerns?

If you have any questions about making a PID, Council's disclosure officers can assist. Disclosure officers are aware of the requirements and protections in the Act and this policy and can provide advice on how to make a PID and assistance with making a PID.

Disclosure officers are available to talk to you outside work hours and/or away from your work site if required to maintain confidentiality. You are encouraged to make an appointment to meet with a disclosure officer before making contact outside hours.

A list of disclosure officers for Council and their contact details can be found at Annexure A of this policy.

6.2 Protections

6.2.1 How is the maker of a voluntary PID protected?

When you make a voluntary PID you receive special protections under the PID Act.

We are committed to taking all reasonable steps to protect you from detriment as a result of having made a PID. We are also committed to maintaining your confidentiality as much as possible while the PID is being dealt with.

We will not tolerate any type of detrimental action being taken against you because you have made a report, might make a report, or are believed to have made a report.

The maker of a voluntary PID is protected in the following ways:

- Protection from detrimental action
 - A person cannot take detrimental action against another person because they have made a voluntary PID or are considering making a PID. Detrimental action includes bullying, harassment, intimidation, or dismissal.
 - Once we become aware a voluntary PID by a person employed or otherwise associated with the Berrigan Shire Council, concerns serious wrongdoing relating to Council has been made, Council will undertake a risk assessment and take steps to mitigate the risk of detrimental action occurring against the person who made the voluntary PID.

Policy

- It is a criminal offence for someone to take detrimental action against a person because they have made, or may make, a voluntary PID. It is punishable by a maximum penalty of 200 penalty units, or imprisonment for five years, or both.
- A person may seek compensation where unlawful detrimental action has been taken against them.
- A person can apply for a court order (injunction) where detrimental action is threatened or has occurred (for example, an order to prevent dismissal or to require reinstatement).

Note that a person who makes a PID can still be subject to reasonable management action (such as ordinary performance reviews and performance management). Provided such action is not taken because of the PID, it is not detrimental action under the PID Act.

- Immunity from civil and criminal liability

Some public officials are often subject to a duty of confidentiality that prevents them disclosing certain information they obtain or become aware of at work. Sometimes, in order to make a PID, public officials will need to breach or disregard such confidentiality duties. If that happens, a public official cannot be disciplined, sued, or criminally charged for breaching confidentiality.

- Confidentiality

Public officials and agencies must not disclose information tending to identify a person as the maker of a voluntary PID unless doing so is permitted by the PID Act.

- Protection from liability for own past conduct

The Attorney General can give the maker an undertaking that a disclosure of their own past conduct will not be used against them if a person discloses their own wrongdoing or misconduct while making a report. This undertaking can only be given on application by an integrity agency to the Attorney General.

6.2.2 Protections for people who make mandatory and witness PIDs.

Apart from PIDs that are made voluntarily by public officials, there are other types of reports that are recognised as PIDs under the PID Act:

- A mandatory PID: This is a PID where the public official has made the report about serious wrongdoing because they have a legal obligation to make that report, or because making that report is an ordinary aspect of their role or function in an agency.
- A witness PID: This is a PID where a person discloses information during an investigation of serious wrongdoing following a request or requirement of the investigator.

Policy

Protections for makers of mandatory and witness PIDs are detailed in the table below.

Protection	Mandatory PD	Witness PD
Detrimental action — It is an offence to take detrimental action against a person based on the suspicion, belief or awareness that a person has made, may have made or may make a PID.	✓	✓
Right to compensation — A person can initiate proceedings and seek compensation for injury, damage or loss suffered as a result of detrimental action being taken against them.	✓	✓
Ability to seek injunction — An injunction can be sought to prevent the commission or possible commission of a detrimental action offence against a person. For example, an order to prevent dismissal or to require reinstatement.	✓	✓
Immunity from civil and criminal liability — a person will not incur civil or criminal liability if the person breaches a duty of confidentiality while making a disclosure. This means that legal action cannot be taken against a person for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> breaching a duty of secrecy or confidentiality, or breaching another restriction on disclosure. 	✓	✓

6.3 Reporting detrimental action

If you experience adverse treatment or detrimental action, such as bullying or harassment, you should report this immediately.

You can report any experience of adverse treatment or detrimental action directly to Council, or to an integrity agency. A list of integrity agencies is located at Annexure B of this policy.

6.4 General support

- Key contact person
- EAP

Policy

6.5 Roles and responsibilities of Council employees

6.5.1 Chief Executive Officer

The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for:

- fostering a workplace culture where reporting is encouraged,
- receiving disclosures from public officials,
- ensuring there is a system in place for assessing disclosures,
- ensuring the Council complies with this policy and the PID Act,
- ensuring the Council has appropriate systems for:
 - overseeing internal compliance with the PID Act,
 - supporting public officials who make voluntary PIDs, including by minimising the risk of detrimental action,
 - implementing corrective action if serious wrongdoing is found to have occurred,
 - complying with reporting obligations regarding allegations or findings of detrimental action and
 - complying with yearly reporting obligations to the NSW Ombudsman.

6.5.2 Disclosure Coordinator

The Disclosures Coordinator has a central role in the Council's PID system. The Disclosures Coordinator may receive and assess reports and is the primary point of contact in the Berrigan Shire Council for the reporter.

The Disclosures Coordinator has a responsibility to:

- assess reports to determine whether a report should be treated as a PID, and to decide how each report will be dealt with (either under delegation or in consultation with the Chief Executive Officer),
- deal with reports made under the council's Code of Conduct in accordance with the Council's adopted code of conduct procedures,
- coordinate the Council's response to a report,
- acknowledge reports and provide updates and feedback to the reporter,
- assess whether it is possible and appropriate to keep the reporter's identity confidential,
- assess the risk of detrimental action and workplace conflict related to, or likely to arise out of, a report and develop strategies to manage any risk identified,
- where required, provide, or coordinate support to staff involved in the reporting or investigation process, including protecting the interests of any officer the subject of a report and

Policy

- ensure Council complies with the PID Act; and provide reports to the NSW Ombudsman in accordance with the PID Act

6.5.3 Disclosure Officers

Disclosure officers are responsible for:

- receiving reports from public officials,
- receiving reports when they are passed on to them by managers,
- ensuring reports are dealt with appropriately, including by referring the matter to the appropriate complaint unit (if relevant) and
- ensuring any oral reports that have been received are recorded in writing.

6.5.4 Managers

The responsibilities of managers include:

- receiving reports from persons that report to them or that they supervise and
- passing on reports they receive to a Disclosure Officer.

6.5.5 All Council officials

All Councillors, employees, volunteers, and other officials must:

- report suspected serious wrongdoing or other misconduct,
- use their best endeavours to assist in an investigation of serious wrongdoing if asked to do so by a person dealing with a voluntary PID on behalf of Council and
- treat any person dealing with or investigating reports of serious wrongdoing with respect.

All employees must not take detrimental action against any person who has made, may in the future make, or is suspected of having made, a PID.

6.6 How we will deal with Voluntary PIDs

6.6.1 How we will acknowledge reports and keep the reporter informed

When a disclosure officer in Council receives a report which is a voluntary PID, or looks like it may be a voluntary PID, the person who made the report will receive the following information:

- You will receive an acknowledgment the report has been received. This acknowledgement will:
 - state that the report will be assessed to identify whether it is a PID,
 - state that the PID Act applies to how Berrigan Shire Council deals with PID reports,
 - provide clear information on how you can access this PID policy and
 - provide you with details of a contact person and available supports.

Policy

- If the report is a voluntary PID, we will inform you as soon as possible how we intend to deal with the report. This may include:
 - that we are investigating the serious wrongdoing,
 - that we will refer the report to a different agency (if appropriate) to deal with the voluntary PID. If we do this, we will provide you with details of this referral or
 - if we decide to not investigate the report and to not refer it to another agency for it to be investigated, we will tell you the reasons for this decision. We will also notify the NSW Ombudsman of this decision.
- If we decide to investigate the serious wrongdoing, we will provide you with updates on the investigation at least every three months. During this time, if you would like more frequent updates, you should contact the contact person who was nominated when you made the report.
 - If we investigate the serious wrongdoing, we will provide you with the following information once the investigation is complete:
 - a description of the results of the investigation — that is, we will tell you whether we found that serious wrongdoing took place,
 - information about any corrective action taken as a result of the investigation/s — this means we will tell you what action we took in relation to the person who engaged in the serious wrongdoing or, if the serious wrongdoing was by our agency, what we have put in place to address that serious wrongdoing and
 - include any corrective action – including disciplinary action – taken against someone or changing the practices, policies and procedures we have in place which led to the serious wrongdoing.
- There may be some details about both the findings made as a result of the investigation and the corrective action taken that cannot be revealed to you. We will always balance the right of a person who makes a report to know the outcome of that report, with other legal obligations we have.
- If you have made an anonymous report, in many cases we may not be able to provide this information to you.

6.6.2 How we will deal with voluntary PIDs.

Once a report that may be a voluntary PID is received Council will look at the information contained in the report to see if it has the features of a voluntary PID.

This assessment is undertaken to identify whether the report is a voluntary PID or another type of disclosure, and to make sure the right steps are followed. If it is a voluntary PID, we will ensure we comply with the requirements in the PID Act.

Report not a voluntary PID

Policy

Even if the report is not a voluntary PID, it will still need to be dealt with in a manner consistent with our Grievance Policy or through an alternate process.

If the report is not a voluntary PID, we will let you know that the PID Act does not apply to the report and how we will deal with the concerns raised in the report.

If you are not happy with this assessment or otherwise disagree with it, you can raise it with the person who has communicated the outcome with you, or a disclosure officer, request an internal review, or request the matter be conciliated. Council can, but do not have to, request the NSW Ombudsman to conciliate the matter.

Cease dealing with report as voluntary PID.

Council may stop dealing with a voluntary PID because it is not actually a voluntary PID (meaning it does not have all the features of a PID).

Where the report is a voluntary PID

If the report is a voluntary PID:

- In most cases we will investigate to make findings about whether the serious wrongdoing disclosed in the report occurred, who was involved, who was responsible, and whether the people involved, or the agency engaged, in serious wrongdoing. There may be circumstances where we believe an investigation is not warranted — for example, if the conduct has previously been investigated.
- There may also be circumstances where we decide the report should be referred to another agency, such as an integrity agency. For example, reports concerning possible corrupt conduct may be required to be reported to the ICAC in accordance with section 11 of the Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988.
- Before referring a matter, we will discuss the referral with the other agency, and we will provide you with details of the referral and a contact person within the other agency.
- If we decide not to investigate a report and to not refer the matter to another agency, we must let you know the reasons for this and notify the NSW Ombudsman.

6.6.3 How we will protect the confidentiality of the maker of a voluntary PID.

We understand people who make voluntary PIDs may want their identity and the fact that they have made a report, to be confidential.

Under the PID Act, information tending to identify a person as the maker of a voluntary PID (known as identifying information) is not to be disclosed by a public official or an agency.

There are certain circumstances under the PID Act that allow for the disclosure of identifying information. These include:

Policy

- where the person consents in writing to the disclosure,
- where it is generally known the person is the maker of the voluntary PID because of their voluntary self-identification as the maker,
- when the public official or Council reasonably considers it necessary to disclose the information to protect a person from detriment,
- where it is necessary the information be disclosed to a person whose interests are affected by the disclosure,
- where the information has previously been lawfully published,
- when the information is disclosed to a medical practitioner or psychologist, for the purposes of providing medical or psychiatric care, treatment or counselling to the individual disclosing the information,
- when the information is disclosed for the purposes of proceedings before a court or tribunal,
- when the disclosure of the information is necessary to deal with the disclosure effectively and
- if it is otherwise in the public interest to disclose the identifying information.

We will not disclose identifying information unless it is necessary and authorised under the PID Act.

We will put in place steps to keep the identifying information of the maker and the fact a report has been made confidential. It may not be possible for us to maintain complete confidentiality while we progress the investigation, but we will do all we practically can to not unnecessarily disclose information from which the maker of the report can be identified. We will do this by:

- limiting the number of people who are aware of the maker's identity or information that could identify them,
- if we must disclose information that may identify the maker of the PID, we will still not disclose the actual identity of the maker of the PID, unless we have their consent to do so,
- ensuring any person who does know the identity of the maker of a PID is reminded they have a legal obligation to keep their identity confidential,
- ensuring only authorised persons have access to emails, files or other documentation that contain information about the identity of the maker,
- undertaking an assessment to determine if anyone is aware of the maker's identity and if those persons have a motive to cause detrimental action to be taken against the maker, or impede the progress of the investigation and
- providing information to the maker of the PID about the importance of maintaining confidentiality and advising them how best to protect their identity, for example, by telling them not to discuss their report with other staff.

If confidentiality cannot be maintained or is unlikely to be maintained, Council will:

- advise the person whose identity may become known,
- update the agency's risk assessment and risk management plan,

Policy

- implement strategies to minimise the risk of detrimental action,
- provide additional supports to the person who has made the PID and
- remind persons who become aware of the identifying information, of the consequences for failing to maintain confidentiality and that engaging in detrimental action is a criminal offence and may constitute a disciplinary matter.

6.6.4 How we assess and minimise the risk of detrimental action.

Council will not tolerate any detrimental action being taken by any person against a person who has made a PID, investigators, witnesses, or the person the report is about.

Council will assess and take steps to mitigate detrimental action from being taken against the maker of a voluntary PID, the person whose conduct is the subject of a PID, investigators and witnesses.

Council will take steps to assess and minimise the risk of detrimental action by:

- undertaking a risk assessment and creating a risk management plan (including reassessing the risk throughout the entirety of the matter),
- providing details of the unit/role responsible for undertaking a risk assessment,
- explaining the approvals for risk assessment and the risk management plan, that is, identifying the person who has final approval,
- explaining how the agency will communicate with the maker to identify risks,
- listing the protections offered, that is, the agency will discuss protection options with the maker, which may include remote working or approved leave for the duration of the investigation and
- outlining what supports will be provided.

Detrimental action against a person is an act or omission that causes, comprises, involves, or encourages detriment to a person, or a threat of detriment to a person (whether express or implied).

Detriment to a person includes:

- injury, damage, or loss,
- property damage,
- reputational damage,
- intimidation, bullying or harassment,
- unfavourable treatment in relation to another person's job,
- discrimination, prejudice, or adverse treatment,
- disciplinary proceedings or disciplinary action, or
- any other type of disadvantage.

Detrimental action does not include:

Policy

- lawful action taken by a person or body to investigate serious wrongdoing or other misconduct,
- the lawful reporting or publication of a finding of serious wrongdoing or other misconduct,
- the lawful making of adverse comment, resulting from investigative action, or
- the prosecution of a person for a criminal offence

6.6.5 How we will deal with allegations of detrimental action.

If Council become(s) aware of an allegation that a detrimental action offence has occurred or may occur, Council will:

- take all steps possible to stop the action and protect the person(s),
- take appropriate disciplinary action against anyone who has taken detrimental action,
- refer any evidence of a detrimental action offence to the Commissioner of Police and the ICAC and
- notify the NSW Ombudsman about the allegation of a detrimental action offence being committed.

6.6.6 What we will do if an investigation finds serious wrongdoing

If, after an investigation, it is found that serious wrongdoing or other misconduct has occurred, Council will take the most appropriate action to address that wrongdoing or misconduct. This is also known as corrective action.

Corrective action can include:

- a formal apology,
- improving internal policies to adequately prevent and respond to similar instances of wrongdoing,
- providing additional education and training to staff where required,
- taking employment action against persons involved in the wrongdoing (such as termination of employment, relocation, a caution, or reprimand) and
- payment of compensation to people who have been affected by serious wrongdoing or other misconduct.

6.7 Review and dispute resolution

6.7.1 Internal review

People who make voluntary PIDs can seek internal review of the following decisions made by Council:

- That Council is not required to deal with the report as a voluntary PID.
- That Council has decided to stop dealing with the report because Council decided it was not a voluntary PID.

Policy

- That Council has decided not to investigate the serious wrongdoing and not referred the report to another agency.
- That Council has decided to cease investigating the serious wrongdoing without either completing the investigation or referring the report to another agency for investigation.

Council will ensure internal reviews are conducted in compliance with the PID Act.

If you would like to make an application for an internal review, you must apply in writing within 28 days of being informed of Council's decision. The application should state the reasons why you consider Council's decision should not have been made. You may also submit any other relevant material with your application.

6.7.2 Voluntary dispute resolution

If a dispute arises between Council and a person who has made a report which is, or may be, a voluntary PID, we may request the NSW Ombudsman to conciliate the dispute.

Conciliation is a voluntary process and will only be suitable for disputes where Council and the maker of the report are willing to resolve the dispute.

6.8 Reporting and compliance

6.8.1 Reporting of voluntary PIDs and Council annual return to the Ombudsman

Each year Council provides an annual return to the NSW Ombudsman which includes:

- information about voluntary PIDs received by Council during each return period (yearly with the start date being 1 July),
- action taken by Council to deal with voluntary PIDs during the return period and
- how Council has promoted a culture in the workplace where PIDs are encouraged.

This information is collated by the Disclosures Coordinator. The Disclosures Coordinator is also responsible for ensuring the data is stored correctly and for preparing the annual return.

6.8.2 Ensuring compliance

We will ensure compliance and monitor effectiveness of this policy through oversight and regular reviews.

The Disclosures Coordinator is the person responsible for ensuring Council complies with the Act and this policy, including:

- Training and education
- Managing and investigating complaints

Policy

- Protecting makers of PIDs
- Reporting to internal bodies and external agencies – including the Council’s Audit, Risk, and Improvement Committee (ARIC) and the NSW Ombudsman’s office.

The Chief Executive Officer will have oversight and retains overall responsibility for ensuring that Council complies with its obligations under the Act and this policy.

The ARIC also has the authority to commission an internal audit on Council’s compliance with the Act and this policy – in general or in relation to a specific disclosure.

Where we identify serious and/or systemic non-compliance with the Act or this policy, we will report this to Council’s AIC. Depending on the nature of the non-compliance we may also refer these incidents to other integrity agencies such as the Independent Commission against Corruption and the NSW Ombudsman.

8. RECORDS MANAGEMENT

Council must keep full and accurate records with respect to all information received in connection with the PID Act. This ensures that [agency name] complies with its obligations under the State Records Act 1998.

All Records must be kept in accordance with Council's Records Management Policy (currently under development) and destroyed as per the General Retention and Disposal Authority: Local Government Records (GA39).

9. REVIEW AND EVALUATION

This policy (procedure) will be evaluated and reviewed at least once every four (4) years as per Council's Governance Policy (currently under development) or as required.

10. DOCUMENT AVAILABILITY

A number of legislative instruments require Councils to have the policy available for inspection at Council's principal office (i.e. Policies made under Part 3, of the Local Government Act 1993). Each document should therefore state the ways in which the policy is available including any relevant fees and charges for access to such policy. An example of the required statement is provided below:

This policy will be available for inspection at Council's principal office during ordinary business hours as per the requirements of section 18 (c) of the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 and section 167 of the Local Government Act 1993.

Access to the policy in digital format is free and is available on Council's website <https://www.berriganshire.nsw.gov.au/>

Printed copies of the document are available at Council's principal office (address noted below) and are subject to Council's Fees and Charges.
